A GSA Supply Catalog Supplement and Furniture Price Bulletin

Volume 8, No. 2

Jan/Feb 1983

Organizational Name Change

GSA's Office of Personal Property (OPP) will now be known as the Office of Federal Supply and Services. It was decided that this new name more appropriately represents the activities of this worldwide organization.

Saving Through Consolidated Purchasing or Buy Smart -- Buy GSA

If GSA could show you a way to reduce your spending for common use items and services, would you be interested?

The way is easy: let GSA have more of your business. We can save you at least 20 percent and perhaps more.

It is estimated that Federal agencies are buying $12 billion a year in common use items and services, $3 billion through GSA channels and $9 billion on the open market. Using its aggregate buying and support system capabilities, GSA estimates it can save 20 percent, even after extracting its own cost of doing business.

"Our conviction that there is real savings potential is so strong," said Les Mitchell, GSA's Assistant Administrator for Federal Supply and Services, "that we have set a goal to increase our support to our customer agencies by a billion dollars in 1983 -- to $4 billion. We are ready for the task. Over the past year we have streamlined our supply distribution system, consolidated warehouse operations and are doing a better job with a leaner team. Our order fill rate is above 93 percent and the turn-around time in our warehouses has been reduced to less than 6 days. Our contract coverage is 97 percent. We are committed to providing responsive delivery of quality products at the least cost to our customers."

Tests in Boston, Kansas City, and Denver of a new concept -- customer supply centers where orders are filled in 24 hours or less -- have been highly successful. Other centers will open in the next several months in Auburn and New Orleans. Soon afterward, each Federal regional city will have one. They feature a simplified, telephone ordering system. An on-line mini-computer lets you know immediately if we have the item. You can pick it up the same day or have it enroute to you within 24 hours.

In another area of importance to you, GSA has contracted with commercial agents to arrange government travel. Negotiations for discounts with airlines, car rental firms, hotels and motels have put us in a much better position to meet your travel needs. We also can show you how to get the most out of your dollars for transportation of goods.

In short, we are prepared to handle more of your business and help you conserve your program resources.

General Services Administration
Office of Federal Supply and Services

Let us know how we can help you meet your needs. What other products or services can we buy for you? Give it some thought and phone your regional Customer Service Officer. If you do not have a contact in your region, just phone us on Autovon at 227-2891 or FTS 557-8600, and we will give you a name and number or have the CSO phone you. Together, we can save resources and obtain maximum return on federal expenditures. Remember, BUY SMART -- BUY GSA.

Furniture Update

Save Through Direct Delivery

GSA customers can save 10 percent on large orders for stock items by accepting direct delivery from the manufacturer. Utilization of the service is especially encouraged for activities with repetitive requirements for large quantities of bulky items. Through preplanned direct delivery arrangements, the long leadtimes associated with direct deliveries can be reduced or avoided.

There are three methods by which your activity may take advantage of the savings associated with direct delivery. The first is by special agreement with GSA's inventory management activity. This is probably best when your annual requirements are predictable and recurring.

Or you may request direct delivery
by utilizing a new advice code, " 34", in card columns 65-66 of the requisition.

Finally, if your requisition quantity qualifies for direct delivery, it is automatically referred to one of our inventory managers, who will contact you for your approval for direct delivery.

Another Way to Save

Agencies may wish to consider using blanket purchase agreements, coupled with GSA's schedules program, to save procurement dollars. This takes some planning, since it requires an up front commitment to the schedule contractor to buy a specified quantity within the maximum order limitation by placing a series of purchase orders during the contract period. The commitment guarantees a volume discount price, often much lower than the basic unit price.

Vendor Markings on Direct Delivery Containers

Reports of improper markings on containers used for direct delivery of products to our customers have resulted in the establishment of a working group to identify the causes and to correct the problem.
You should see positive results
soon.

State-of-the-Art

Manufacturers expend significant resources to keep their products current with advances in technology, and GSA has a method for making these new items immediately available to you. It is the New Item Introductory Schedule (NIIS), which covers new or improved products in which you may be interested

The NIIS program is growing rapidly, and we are now adding 30 to 50 new items each month. Pricing, discounts and ordering information all are published in the NIIS. Les Jackson on FTS 557-8470, will be pleased to answer any questions you might have concerning the NIIS.

Copier Paper

There are two Federal Supply Schedules offering xerographic paper.

Schedule 75-X, Contract Period
1/1/83 - 6/30/83

A competitive, single-award schedule offering 8-1/2 x 11", 8-1/2 x 14" and 8-1/2 x 11" 3-hole-drill paper for high speed Xerox 9000 series machines and other dry toner xerographic equipment (Xerox, Kodak, some Saxon machines, IBM III, etc.) and offset printing. Xerox Corporation is the supplier in all zones except for one quantity break.

Schedule 75-XI - Contract Period
10/1/82 - 9/30/83

Multiple award schedule with other dry-toner papers, including 11 x 17", colored papers, IBM copier rolls, engineering papers; paper, coated, sheet and roll; thermal copy paper; paper for liquid toner copiers (Savin, most Saxon, etc.).

These schedules are mandatory for use by all departments and independent establishments (including wholly-owned Government Corporations) in the Executive Branch of the Federal Government (except the U.S. Postal Service).

Steel Strapping

Due to the vendor's established minimum order quantity, requisitions for Steel Strapping (FSC 81, Part II, Section A) orders must be placed for at least 2 coils, or requisitions will be rejected.

Federal Supply Schedule Program Guide

A new edition of the GSA Federal Supply Schedule Program Guide will be issued this fiscal year. The Guide will provide information to assist agencies in obtaining their requirements at favorable prices, while reducing leadtimes and administrative costs.

The Guide will provide: an alphabetical index of supplies and services available from federal supply schedules; a listing of national and regional schedules with identification numbers, titles, and mailing codes for use in ordering schedules and contractor publications; a listing of personal property rehabilitation contracts; and schedule and contract provisions.

To be placed on the mailing list for this publication submit GSA Form 457 (FSS Publications Mailing List Application) to: General Services Administration, Publications Distribution Center (8FFS), Building 41, Denver Federal Center, Denver, CO 80225.

The mailing code for the GSA Federal Supply Schedule Program Guide is OFSS-0001.

Note: The National Stock Number (NSN) listing in this publication will show only items included under the federal supply schedule program. The NSN listing of items in the GSA stores stock program may be found in the GSA Supply Catalog.

Furniture Price Bulletin

Special Order Program

February 1983

Notice

This bulletin should be used with the GSA Supply Catalog, Customer Assistance Guide and supplemental publication/ notices. The bulletin provides general information, but its primary role is to furnish customers with actual delivered prices and to identify contractors for items to assist customers in consolidation of requirements.

General Information

GSA is a mandatory source of supply for activities of executive agencies for Special Order Program (Acquisition Advice Code H, nonstock, centrally procured) items managed by GSA, except when the total value of a line item requirement is less than $100. For activities electing to submit requirements under $100, GSA will supply them.

Additional copies of price bulletins are available from:

General Services Administration
Office of Federal Supply and Services (FB)
Crystal Mall Building 4, Room 1125
Washington, DC 20406
Telephone: (703) 557-8646

1. REQUISITIONS, BILLING, AND LEADTIME: Special Order and Stock Program requisition and billing relationships are the same, but Special Order Program requirements are placed with contractors for direct delivery to customers, rather than being shipped from GSA stock. Customers should plan for 135 day leadtimes and send consolidated requirements. A pattern of low order volume for large quantities will produce the greatest economies for the Government.

2. SMALL REQUIREMENTS SURCHARGE: In order to obtain reasonable prices, a $20 surcharge for processing and shipping orders with a net value under $250 will apply. A note about this charge will appear on purchase orders.

Customers can expect requisitions to be consolidated on a single order to the same contractor where requisition documents have matching activity address code, contract number, consignee, fund code, project code, supplementary address, billing office, signal code, and priority group.

3. FURNITURE WARRANTY (QUALITY COMPLAINTS): Furniture under the Special Order Program is warranted for 14 months from date of shipment by vendor. This includes furniture shipped both within and outside the continental United States. Contractors must mark "WARRANTED ITEMS - IF DEFECTIVE CONTACT GSA" on shipping containers, on removable tags on the items, and on the permanent label on items. Customers should notify GSA of defective furniture by submission of Standard Form 368, Quality Deficiency Report, to the servicing Contract Management Division (see FPMR 101-26.8, Discrepancies or Deficiencies in GSA or DoD Shipments, Materials, or Billings or DLAR 4155.24, Reporting of Quality Deficiencies Across Component Lines). Valid warranty claims can be reimbursement of 90 percent of the original purchase price, as determined by GSA.
